BBLC Pivots Investor Relations Toward Unified Data and Verified Capital-Markets Intelligence

Vancouver, British Columbia -- 2026-10-17 -- OTC: BBLC

Blockchain Loyalty Corp (OTC: BBLC) announced today that it is consolidating its investor-relations workflow around a single data-room and verified capital-markets intelligence system, giving investors access to standardized materials across Koilink, Orvexa, Capistral, iSwiped, and InfernoGrid.

The shift removes scattered file sharing and replaces it with a central repository of investor decks, financial snapshots, division overviews, white papers, and governance documents. Each division is now represented by a discrete investment thesis backed by consistent metrics and disclosure controls.

"We treat investor data as infrastructure, not content," said a company spokesperson. "Every document is versioned, attributable, and gated to the right audience. That is the standard BBLC is setting for public-market communications."

Investor materials are available through the BBLC investor portal at <https://bbbc-investor-rollout.pages.dev>.

RELEASE 04

BBLC Adds InfernoGrid Division to Build Cloud Compute Marketplace

Blockchain Loyalty Corp (OTC: BBLC) announced today the formation of InfernoGrid, a division focused on building a marketplace for cloud graphics-processing-unit capacity. InfernoGrid will connect providers of idle GPU infrastructure with buyers in AI training, inference, rendering, and scientific compute.

The division complements BBLC's existing operations in algorithmic trading, corporate visibility, and investor discovery by adding a direct exposure to AI infrastructure demand. InfernoGrid is currently in pre-launch development and will provide further updates as its go-to-market timeline firms up.

"GPU compute is becoming a base layer of the digital economy," said a company spokesperson. "InfernoGrid gives BBLC a structured, asset-light way to participate in that shift without taking on data-center construction risk."

Division details will be published on <https://bbbc-brand-options.pages.dev/divisions> as milestones are reached.

About Blockchain Loyalty Corp (BBLC)
